Handling disclosures

Let the child/ adult at risk tell their whole story. Don't try to investigate or quiz them, but make sure that you are clear as to what they are saying.

Ask them what they would like to happen as a result of what they have said, but don't make or infer promises you can't keep.

Reassure them that telling someone about it was the right thing to do.

Tell them that you now have to do what you can to keep them (or the person who is the subject of the disclosure) safe.

Let them know what you are going to do next and who else needs to know about it.

Speak to the Designated Safeguarding Officer.

SAFEGUARDING: Key Information

Please refer to this leaflet for key safeguarding information in the case of a disclosure or if you have a concern about a child, young person or vulnerable adult.

This is intended as a quick 'go to' document alongside your reading of the Albany's Safeguarding Policy and Code of Conduct.

The Albany agrees that it is always unacceptable for a child or any person to experience abuse and recognises its responsibility to safeguard the welfare of all children and adults at risk, by a commitment to practice which protects them.

We recognise that:

- the welfare of the child/ adult at risk is paramount and that anyone, regardless of age, disability, gender, racial heritage, religious belief, sexual orientation or identity, has the right to equal protection from all types of harm or abuse;
- working in partnership with children, their parents/ carers and vulnerable adults and their agencies is essential in promoting their welfare.

Everyone shares responsibility for safeguarding and promoting the welfare of children irrespective of individual professional or volunteering roles.
